General Comment

Please stop trying to regulate everything in our lives. The US government is growing out of control, It is bloated, mismanaged, and cannot every find ways to cut expenses as we in the real world are forced to do. When the US wants more money they just print it. What a bunch of knuckleheads. Greece should be a lesson to us.....It can come to fruition here as well.

The American people are paying more attention to things more than the have in the past, and are willing to vote people out of office. I have seen first hand how Senators will vote against the wishes of the people, I guess they think they know better.

We are the boss. They need to do what we want, or you will be gone!
